IRC Sends Four to Model United Nations Assembly

Loyola College's International Relations Club will send four delegates to the Twenty-Fourth Annual Model General Assembly of the United Nations, which will be held at Beaver College, Jenkinstown, Pennsylvania, on March 29, 30, 31. The delegates, Wilfred Von Mayer, Melvin Cohen, Joseph Steffens and Andrea Alcarese will represent Egypt and will assume the duties of that country's representatives in the assembly.

The agenda of the Model Assembly consists of four special committee meetings and a general session. The Trusteeship Committee will take up the problems of the Italian and British colonies in Africa. Acting upon request, Loyola has prepared a resolution to be submitted to that committee concerning the Italian Somaliland.

The threat to peace in the Far East and in the Balkans will be discussed by the Political and Security Committee. They will also consider the qualifications of membership of the recent applicants to the U. N.

The Committee on United Nations Machinery will deal with means of strengthening the United Nations to combat aggression and clarifying the role of the secretary-general. International trade and financial problems of underdeveloped countries will be reviewed by the Economic Committee.

Rector Appointed To Youth Council

The Very Rev. Thomas J. Murray, S. J., president of Loyola College, was named to the Youth Emergency Council recently appointed by Mayor D'Alesandro. The committee will seek to combat the narcotics traffic which the mayor said is enmeshing hundreds of teen-aged students in its "slimy tentacles". The mayor named R. Samuel Jett, Baltimore P. T. A. executive, to head the council, which will include several well-known physicians, ministers, and educators as well as members of the Supreme Bench.

ASN Fraternity Bids Extended To Eight Loyolans, Two Alumni

Alpha Sigma Nu announced today that they have extended invitations to ten Loyolans who have accepted nomination for the 1951 Chapter of the fraternity here on campus. ASN is a society of honor students who have distinguished themselves in scholarship, service and loyalty to their college. Loyola was installed officially as an ASN college in 1942.

Announcement was made by the Rev. Joseph K. Drane, S. J. The potential inductees are: Peter Stehle, Jason Brunk, Edward Miller, John Garland, Eugene Conroy, Lawrence Rodowsky, Joseph Sills, George Strohecker, Howard France and Edward Pula.

Induction Set April 22

The date for the induction of candidates has been set tentatively for Sunday, April 22. The ceremony will be held in the faculty house, followed by a buffet dinner in the "Great Parlor". Brother Brennan, S. J., is maitre d' hote for the occasion. All alumni ASN men have been invited to the dinner.

Stehle and Brunk were graduated in July, 1950. Both held exceptional scholastic averages and figured prominently in college activities. Brunk was captain of the cross-country team, while Stehle, who is now pursuing graduate-fellowship studies at Purdue University, was president of the International Relations Club.

Oratorical Contest To Be Held Friday

The annual Lee Oratorical Contest will be held next Friday afternoon, April 6, at 3:30 in the Library. Any student who may desire to participate in the contest may do so by entering his name with the Dean by April 2.

The Lee Gold Medal for Oratory will be awarded to the student who is judged the best speaker on the basis of his delivery and composition of an original six minute speech on a subject of his own choosing.

Eliminations for the Hearst Oratorical Contest were held on Wednesday. Those speakers who were chosen will represent the school in the contest; they are governed by the rules set forth in the News Post.

Charles Room Of Belvedere To Be Site

The Class of 1952's version of the annual Junior Prom will be staged tonight in the Charles Room of the Sheraton Belvedere. Music will be supplied from nine until one by the Men of Note.

Winners of the Prom Court contest were announced today by the publicity committee. Serving Miss Joyce Fallon, Queen of the Prom, will be Miss Elise Wade, Miss Emmy Lou Armacost and Mrs. Charles Connolly.

Miss Fallon will be escorted by John O'Connor, Junior class president, Miss Wade by Frank Nayden, Miss Armacost by William Volenick and Mrs. Connolly by her husband. The Queen and Court will lead the promenade, which takes place immediately after intermission, and will distribute the favors, assisted by their escorts.

A few tickets are still available, and will be on sale this afternoon in the cafeteria, according to Business Manager Norman Karolenko. The price is $4.80, which includes the cost of favors.

The affair will be strictly formal and, as a result of a vote by the Junior Class, corsages will be in order. According to the arrangements committee, the natural beauty of the Charles Room will be aided by a unique cabaret setting.

John Spellacy is chairman of the orchestra committee, while Howard France is in charge of publicity. Anthony Spartana headed the patrons committee.

"Due to the fine cooperation and hard work of all the committee members, as well as the entire Junior Class, tonight's dance should be one of the finest in Loyola's history," stated John O'Connor, president of the Centennial Class and general prom chairman.

Marine Drive Planned Here

A drive to recruit Loyolans into the Marine Corps Platoon Leaders Class will begin on the Evergreen Campus on Monday and Tuesday of next week, April 2 and 3. Captain C. H. Davis, supervisor of procurement for the Philadelphia District, will explain the prerequisites for, and the advantages of the program.

The Platoon Leaders Class is open to freshmen, sophomore and junior students. All training is conducted in two-six-week summer training programs at Marine Corps Schools of Quantico, Virginia.

Appointed Corporals

The junior course, offered to first-year students, emphasizes basic subjects, military and naval indoctrination. Students are appointed corporals in the Marine Corps Reserve, and are paid $95.55 a month during this first, six-week period.

The senior course for second-year students stresses tactics and prob-

Material Shortage Hampers Progress on Memorial Chapel

Still jinxed by shortages, the construction of Our Lady's Chapel of Evergreen is, however, continuing steadily on its way toward completion, which should be about July or August. As it stands now, everything depends on the completion of the fleche and on 600 pieces of cast-stone and limestone which have as yet*to be delivered.

The work on the fleche is holding up the completion of the roof, which has to be water-proofed before any plastering can be started. The difficulty with the fleche arises because it is made of lead coated copper and every opening and crevice has to be soldered by hand; the cramped working space allows only a few men to be employed on this job.

Except for the roof and a few finishing touches the exterior is just about finished. The pointing is three-fourths completed and the mullions are in place awaiting the STILL COMING—Our Lady's Chapel of Evergreen is entering the final stages of its development. Scaffolding can be seen around the fleche, which workmen are covering with sheet metal. After the fleche is completed, the unfinished portion of the roof (hidden) will be shingled, and then the finishing touches will be added to the Cohn Memorial Auditorium, expected by late June.

Spring Dances Scheduled For Evergreen Gymnasium

NFCCS

The annual National Federation of Catholic College Students' Congress dance will take place on Saturday evening, April 14 in the Loyola College gymnasium. The affair will be held from nine til one with the music being supplied by the Men of Note.

The dance will follow the Annual Baltimore-Washington Region Congress scheduled to take place at Notre Dame College from nine in the morning until five in the afternoon on the same day. Evergreen will be represented by Edward Pula, Loyola's senior delegate, and several junior delegates.

The theme for the Congress is "The Catholic Student in the Parish". The dance is under the chairmanship of Pula, assisted by James Gumnich and Joseph Paszek.

The proceeds from the dance will help defray the expenses of the Congress; the profits will be donated to the NFCCS Overseas Service Program, which aids foreign students. Tickets will go on sale next week at $1.50 per couple.

Frosh/Soph

The Debonaires, a local orchestra, will supply the music at the joint sophomore-freshman dance scheduled for April 28 in the Alumni Gymnasium. James Garland, sophomore class president, announced, "In keeping with our promise of a low cost, tickets will sell for $1.50.

Garland exclaimed that the gymnasium will be decorated in a style concurrent with the Spring season. Decorations will produce a "surrealistic effect" he stated.

Refreshments will be served during intermission in the Recreation Room on the ground floor. The concession, formerly operated by Baummiller and Cockey, will be handled by John Potthast.

Tentative plans are underway to distribute small flowers as favors, according to Robert Bollinger and Kemp Roche, co-chairmen of the arrangements committee. Hugh Meade and William Manger are handling decorations while Donald Rohr and Vincent Smith have charge of publicity.

News In Brief

Pvt. John A. Blondell has been assigned to the 47th Infantry Division, Camp Rucker, Alabama. He was graduated with the class of 1950.

Lawrence F. Rodowsky has been appointed to the office of Parliamentarian of the student council. He replaces Richard Cadigan.

A new path between the Library Building and the tennis courts leading to Coldspring Lane has been provided for the convenience of the students. Stone chips from the chapel were used for the foundation of the walk.

Loyola College has discontinued membership in the National Student's Association for the duration of the emergency. A lack of funds brought about this measure.

Michael Bollinger of the Class of '50 is now with the Air Corps at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. Bollinger enlisted in the Air Corp several months ago.

David Maguire, ex '52, formerly on The Greyhound staff, is serving at the Engineer Replacement Training Center at Fort Belvoir, Virginia. Maguire was drafted several weeks ago.

Alumni Doings

Rev. John A. Convery to Speak To Grads at Annual Breakfast

—by Terrence Burke

Most recent developments along the lines of alumni religious and social activities were the announcement that the Rev. John A. Convery, S. J., had accepted an invitation to be principal speaker at the April 15 Communion Breakfast and the formation of a committee to arrange for a May 12 Homecoming Weekend and Dance.

Father Convery is remembered by hundreds of Association members from the years he served as a Scholastic and later as Dean of Loyola High School. He is now associated with the University of Scranton. The Breakfast will be at the Stafford Hotel ($1.50 at the door) following a 9 A. M. Mass in the Evergreen Chapel.

Little is definitely known about the Homecoming affair at this early date, but Entertainment Committeeman Charles Meagher says it is likely that Sid Cowan's orchestra will supply music for the Saturday night dance, which will be preceded by several athletic contests on Friday and Saturday.

Jim Lacy, Jr., and Bill Schaubberger recently proved that graduation from College does not ipso facto produce atrophied muscles by winning the Maryland States Doubles Championship in Squash.

Ensign James E. Bowen and wife Theresa were in town recently en route from Officers' Training School in Monterey, California, to Norfolk, Va., where Jim will pick up a Destroyer Tender for parts unknown.

Nervously awaiting June marriages are Francis X. Gallagher (to Mary Kelly) and Robert Custer (to Peggy Pellens).

Four Students Place In Scholarship Exam

Mr. Henry L. Zerhusen of the college placement office has announced the results of the annual scholarship examinations which were administered to accredited high school students of the Baltimore area on March 17. Two full four-year tuition scholarships were awarded, and two two-year scholarships.

The four-year scholarships were awarded to Jerome Conroy Boone, of Calvert Hall College, and to Malcolm Gary Golden, of Baltimore City College. Boone was for three years a winner in the Hearst History Contest awards.

The half scholarships were won by Michael Patrick McHugh of Mount St. Joseph's High School, and by Thomas Howland Smith, also of Mount St. Joseph's. The tests were psychological aptitude, and examined the prospective Loyolans on their mathematical, cultural, logical and linguistic abilities. The tests also served as the regular college-entrance examination.

History, English Gold Medals Due

Three annual contests for scholastic honors in English, History and Latin are scheduled in the next few weeks; two of them are restricted to seniors, while the other is open to the whole school.

Senior students majoring in English are eligible to compete in the annual essay contest for the Carrell Gold Medal. The subject of the contest may be any topic dealing with the matter covered in the following English courses: the early 19th century, the later 19th century or literary criticism.

According to contest rules, the paper should be approximately 3,000 words in length; regular class terms papers may be submitted. The closing date for the contest is May 1. The medal was founded by the Misses Jenkins in memory of the Rt. Rev. George A. Carrell, S. J., first bishop of Covington, Kentucky.

The Whiteford Gold Medal, founded by Miss Cecilia Whiteford, will be awarded to the senior history major submitting the best essay dealing with subject matter covered in the following history courses: the Mediterranean world, modern Europe 1648-1815, or American government. Contest rules and the closing date are the same as for the Carrell Medal.

The Classics Academy is also planning a contest to award the Palma Nobilis, its annual medal for the best Latin student. The contest will consist of a translation examination which will be open to all Loyola students with a knowledge of Latin. The date of the contest has not been set, but will be announced in the near future.

Singers Rehearse Songs for Hospitals

The Loyola College Glee Club is forming plans to visit the Children's Hospital and Jenkin's Memorial in the very near future. The exact dates will be determined by the hospital authorities.

In harmony with the proper spirit for the convalescing patients the selections to be presented will be on the lighter side, according to Felice S. Iula, assistant professor of music. Also included will be several novelty type songs especially suited for cheering the children.

Listed in the program are such songs as, You'll Never Walk Alone, Soldiers' Chorus from Charles Gunold's opera Faust, The Battle Hymn of the Republic, and several negro spirituals, as well as a few selected chanteys.

John F. Spellacy, president of the glee club, relates "These not only bring comfort and cheer to the recovering patients, but also are instrumental in preparing the club for its annual concert."

This year's Annual Glee Club Concert and Dance will be held on May 5 at the Alcazar. Previous plans to hold this affair in the new auditorium had to be scrapped because the chapel will not be completed in time.

Death of a Peddler

"Shocking" is the best word to describe the narcotics scandal which has recently been brought to the public eye in Baltimore. Dope violations in this city have more than doubled in the past year. Agonizing stories, analogous to the atrocities of the "Buchenwald Butchers," have been told in the local newspapers. stories of children as young as thirteen who are full-fledged dope addicts.

The practises of the dope peddlers in getting these children to develop the narcotics habit are vicious, devoid of any moral considerations. The pattern is familiar; joy-seeking teenagers are introduced to the habit by being given a free "roach," a cigarette of marihuana. After experiencing the first "lift" they begin to develop a craving for the drug.

Once their victims are entangled in the tenacles of the habit, the peddlers begin charging exorbitant prices for the drug. Financially unable to afford them, the victims turn to crimes of robbery and burglary in a endeavor to raise sufficient funds. Some even pawn their clothes or their parents' valuables; others become peddlers, who are "paid" in narcotics.

No longer getting a "thrill" from the marihuana, the addicts "graduate" to heroin, a drug five times as powerful as morphine. This is injected into the viens with a small hypodermic needle. Heroin sells for $3.00 to $4.00 a capsule; some addicts require as many as six a day.

Crimes of prostitution, rape, murder and assault are traceable to the use of the drug. Human hulks, reduced to a bestial existence, commit these felonies unwary of what they do.

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro recently urged a city-wide crack-down on the dope trade. He urged all youths to aid by reporting to the police any known dope addicts or peddlers. The Mayor strongly voiced an appeal for stricter penalties for dope peddlers, advising longer prison terms.

Perhaps stronger prison terms would act as a deterrent, but the death penalty hanging over a peddler's head will surely make him think twice before enticing children under 21. It is the duty of the state to protect the common good, and when necessary to remove those who prove to be impediments. Who could deny that a dope peddler is harmful to the community, when he leaves in his path behind him a human being who is not distinguishable from an irrational animal. A human being only in the sense that he eats and sleeps.

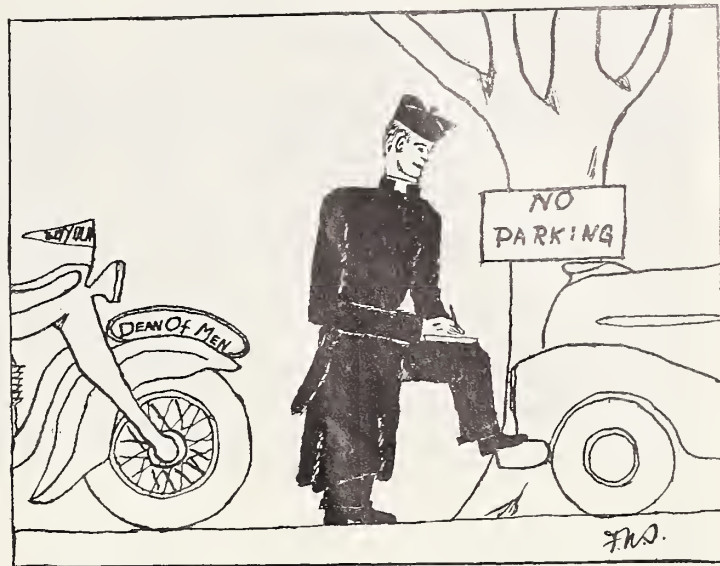

Who's the Enemy?

Inflation has been doing a better job of reducing our supply of military equipment than the Chinese and North Korean armies. To blame is the "too-little and too-late" inflation control policy of the Truman administration.

Economists were screaming for stringent credit controls; Washington clamped them on consumer credit, forgetting open market credit. Wage controls were advised; Washington consented after giving everyone ample time to get a raise. Adding to the irony, Truman in his budget address to Congress asked for funds for several of his welfare programs; nothing like trying to expand government spending helps inflation more.

Read, Not Red

THE GREYHOUND has been receiving literature lately from several leftist organizations. If we were to believe half of what is said in the tear (either pronunciation) sheets, we would pack our bag immediately and leave this down-trodden country. One thing surprised us, the printing ink used was blue instead of red. Evidently there must be a misunderstanding—THE GREYHOUND is read, not red.

He was recently nominated to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Conroy is a former GREYHOUND sports-writer; later he became sports editor. He is a prominent sodalist and announcer for athletic programs.

Rodowsky, Sills, Pula, Strohecker

and France are all juniors and from them will be drawn the new ASN president on campus. Rodowsky holds the top scholastic standing in his class with a 94.3 average, for the sophomore year. He publishes the Greyhound Daily Bulletin and is president of the Classics Academy.

Five Juniors Named

Sills is one of the top thespians in the Mask and Rapier Society, a past president of that organization, and is currently appearing in the Mount Saint Agnes College production, Moliere's, The Imaginary Invalid. Pula is the NFCCS "plugger" here on campus and is chairman of that group's dance to be held here in the gym on April 14.

Strohecker is ex-prefect of the Junior Sodality, the most distinguished position open to a sophomore. He is also on the editorial staff of THE GREYHOUND. France is the editor-in-chief of THE GREYHOUND, advertising director for tonight's Junior Prom, and was the Maryland representative to the National Association of Manufacturer's convention held in New York recently.

At present, ASN has chapters at Holy Cross, Santa Clara, St. Louis, Detroit, Marquette and the Loyolas of New Orleans, Los Angeles and Chicago, to name only a few.

Sodality Reception April 22, Father Nugent Guest Speaker

Louis Reinhardt, prefect of the Junior Sodality, has disclosed further details on the reception of new members and the day of recollection. The reception will be held on April 22 after the nine o'clock Mass in the Students' Chapel. A communion breakfast will be followed by the annual Sodality day of recollection.

The Rev. Francis Nugent, S.J., of Woodstock College, formerly the Sodality moderator at Loyola High School, has been engaged to give the spiritual discourses for the day of recollection. He has spent the past four years at Woodstock studying theology, and he was ordained by the Most Reverend Archbishop Francis P. Keough in June 1950.

This ceremony climaxes several months of preparations in which the new members were instructed in the rules of the Sodality and were checked on their attendance at meetings and activities.

The Sodalities of Notre Dame of Maryland and Mount Saint Agnes Colleges, and the Newman Clubs of Johns Hopkins and Towson State Teachers have been invited to participate. Attendance is open also to the entire student body. Lunch will be served in the cafeteria for a small charge.

The Charles M. Cohn Auditorium is expected to be available for use by the first of June, but this also depends on the completion of the roof. A crypt, the Manresa Chapel, is to be furnished in the basement next to the auditorium. Plans call for a flagstone floor and a beam ceiling but as yet no work has been started.

A statue of Our Lady of Grace which was donated by Fulton Oursler, nationally famed author and lecturer, is being sculptured by Hans Schuler. Schuler is a noted Baltimore sculptor whose most famous works are the bust of Johns Hopkins, which stands in Charles St. next to the University, and the statue of St. Ignatius, which is on the Loyola High School campus. The tympanum which will fit in the arch above the entrance is being designed by the architect and will also be executed by Schuler.

Grad Record Exams Scheduled for April

The Graduate Record exams will be held on Thursday and Friday, April 26 and 27. Seniors are excused from class on these days to take the tests which will extend throughout the school day.

As in past years, all seniors must take the exams, which are a prerequisite for graduation. The tests will be taken under the supervision of Mr. Henry Zerhusen, director of the Placement Bureau.

Council Constitution Revised; Goes To Committee for Assent

The Constitution of the Student Council has been revised and turned over to the Constitutional Revision Committee for approval. Richard Cadigan and John Seal, both of the class of '52, were appointed by the Council to revise the document last January.

The members of the Council deemed the revision necessary because many of the clauses in the old Constitution were confusing in their makeup and, hence, hindered progress on proposals brought before the body.

A conflict has arisen in the Committee over the revision in regard to school elections. The part of the new Constitution under discussion is that "The President of the Student Council shall appoint the Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer of the student body. . . . The President shall then appoint the Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer from among the students of the class from which he was elected. . . ."

The first portion of the excerpt applies to the elections of the officers of the student body at large while the second to the individual class elections.

The Constitutional revision, according to present indications, will be presented complete to the Student Council at large at their meeting next week.

Greyhound Circulation 4000, Distributed Throughout World

by Robert Barnard

Universal is the knowledge that a large part of the operation of any army, civilian organization or school is in the hands of the men behind the scenes; so, too, with the publication of a newspaper. Few people realize the work which is required to present reading matter satisfactory to the reading public.

Of the many departments which come under this category, the men who are responsible for the paper reaching you, the circulation department, is by far the most unheralded yet diligent organization.

Circulation Approximately 4,000

THE GREYHOUND has a circulation of approximately 4,000 copies each issue. At present, there are about 600 students enrolled in the college; assuming that each receives a copy of the paper, there remains about 3400 yet to be distributed.

Every other Friday, a small number of students comprising the circulation staff of the paper meets in the library building at the first floor mimeograph room to distribute the remaining copies of the issue to the outside.

Goes Through World

Included in this, our reading public, are over 2,000 active alumni association members, advertisers, other colleges which hold an exchange correspondence with Loyola and friends of the school who subscribe to the paper by the year.

Each one of these copies which is mailed has to be addressed, folded and stamped. Included in the circulation of the paper are all 48 states, the District of Columbia, U. S. Possessions, Brazil, Great Britain, India, Japan, Australia, Philippines and South Africa.

lems confronting the junior officer, qualifying graduates as infantry troop leaders. Students in this second, six-week period are appointed sergeants in the Marine Corps Reserve and receive $117.60 a month during training.

Grads Get Commissions

All trainees are housed and fed, receive medical care and transportation to and from their homes, and other privileges while attached to the program. Graduates of the senior course receive commissions as second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve upon college graduation, and honor students are tendered regular enlistments when vacancies exist.

In addition to the Platoon Leaders Class program, Captain Davis will procure applicants for the Officer Candidate Course established for the first time since World War II. This course enables college graduates with no military experience to become officers.

Some Not Eligible

Qualified graduates, or seniors in accredited colleges who will receive a baccalaureate degree this spring, other than in medicine, dentistry or theology, and who will be less than 27 years old on July 1, 1951, are eligible for this course.

Those young men who desire information on these programs are urged to contact Capt. Davis, Training Room, First Floor, Loyola Gymnasium.

Lack of Relief Hurler Plagues Loyola Nine

by Jack Potthast

As the baseball season draws near, Coach Lefty Reitz is working feverishly trying to mold his host of newcomers into championship material. Loyola lost eleven lettermen last season through graduation and the draft.

Some of the Hounds who departed are pitchers Semesky, Eckels and Amer. In the infield we notice the absence of Lind, Haggerty, Howell, Hempler, and Seibert. Linardi, Zedalis and Tucker are missing from the outfield. Despite these losses, Bullington and Lottes will be back roaming the pastures for Loyola. The infield still contains a host of vets as we have George Franz at catcher, Reds Schneider at second base, Mel Wright and Ned Kelly at short stop, and Bo Kirby at third base. In the pitching department, Dan Donohue, Bob Matthews and Jerry Malone return to aid Loyola in their quest for victory.

There are many capable newcomers trying for berths this year. Ted Markiewicz, Reggie Phillips and Jack Fallon have shown much promise in the outfield along with Smith, Nayden, Lekas and Swinkowski. The first three mentioned have shown themselves to be exceptional. Bill Mercier, Jim Sweeney and Lanzi are battling for the reserve catching spot and the decision as to who will be successful will be a tough task for Coach Reitz.

Coach Reitz has thirty players trying for positions but he expects to retain a squad of twenty-five members. With this fact in mind, the players are working especially hard during practice so that they might remain as a member of the Hound ball club.

Loyola opens its season on April 2, when it meets Lehigh University. The outlook is not too bright for the coming season as Lefty Reitz has a green squad which needs much more time to train that it has been allotted. Although he does have an inexperienced squad, it is a fighting, spirited organization and doesn't know the meaning of the words "give up". With this in mind we can look forward to a great season in "51" from our Loyola Greyhounds.

Golf Situation Hazy as Squad Works Out

Hit hard by graduation, this year's linksmen remain an unknown quantity, according to their new coach, Billy Johnson.

Out on the links since March 12, the team has been working hard in the fight for positions but Johnson envisions a tough time in trying to replace such stalwarts as Jack Cronin, Jack Simanski, Mel Beeler, and Walt Sibiski.

Pelisek Back

Jim Pelisek, team captain back for his third season of varsity competition, is expected to lead the Greyhounds into action. He will be backed by Bill Gross, Jack Cooney, and Frank McCoy, all returning from last year's squad.

Among the new blood fighting for berths is Tony Pistorio, ex-Calvert Hall luminary, Lee Bardelman, Bud Green, Hoeck and Finnegan. All of these boys have been progressing rapidly and show great promise, Johnson says.

Puzzling Situation

Contrary to previous years, there is not a single position sewed up on the squad and a real battle is in prospect before Johnson picks his six men. As we go to press, Pelisek seems to have the inside track on the number one spot but after this it seems to be just anybody's guess as to who the other five golfers will be.

All told, the golfing picture is a puzzling one, but by the time of the first match, Baltimore University on April 6, the situation will have undoubtedly cleared up.

'Crossemen Lack Strong Defense

Along with the crocus, new lambs and Bock, Bish Baker and his lacrosse men are an omnipresent portent of spring. And, as is the case with the March weather, the stick outlook at Evergreen is both sunny and gray. An ample returning group of lettermen form the nucleus of this year's squad, lead by All-American midfielder Tom Wagner.

The battle-hardened trio of Frank Kimmel, Eddie Miller and Charlie Wagner is the present attack. These, backed up by Lee Thomas, Marv Bobbit and John Reihl, form a unit that should garner many a goal before the season ends.

Along with Wagner at midfield, Bish is working with veteran Tom Oaster and a bright newcomer on the scene who may star for the Hounds this spring—Frank Nasco, an ex-Crusader from St. Paul's. Backing this trio at the moment is a group being formed around Fred "Doc" Carozza. Al Sisson, Jack Hooper, Mike Ford and Johnny Allen are the monogram winners fighting for the position along with Bobby Strott, Jack Doyle, El-lison, Funk and Hart.

This rosy picture of abundant material changes to one of gloom when the subject of defense in general and goal in particular is mentioned. From last year's bulwark, only George "Hopp" Thomas returns and on his shoulders lies the burden of the Green and Gray defense. Ben Cook and Pete Bamburger and newcomers Marty Fairbanks, Ned Callahan, Jerry Rooney and Jim Garland are striving to fill the gaps in the ranks. Bob Freeze, sterling crease defender from last season, is expected out later in the year.

The real headache that is worrying Coach Baker, however, is that of goalie. That crucial chore of guarding the net, so ably tended for the past four years by "Skip" Barry, is a wide open position.

1951 Basketball Finale . . .

Three times in the late stages of the game, Loyola was behind by counts of 13, 7, and 6 points only to come charging back to tie the score. But Hopkins just couldn't be denied and Margolis and Berkman dropped in six quick points with less than two minutes to go to sew up the contest.

Nappy Doherty was high for the Greyhounds with 19 points but it was obvious the team was not up for this one, playing a rather lackadaisical brand of ball most of the way.

Tennis Squad Possesses Well-Balanced Line-up

by Tony Spartana

With the March winds just about a thing of the past, the tennis squad has been diligently working out under the tutelage of their new coach, Buford Zephir. Preparations for their coming campaign with a tough schedule are well under way.

Things are looking a lot better than they did just a few months ago when it was realized that only three boys would be returning that had seen any action last year. Since this time it has been learned that John Darrell is going to be able to play regularly this year, contrary to previous beliefs, and with the addition of newcomer Joe Lacy to the squad, Buf Zephir thinks he has the nucleus of a fine team in the making. Bob Bradley, who divided his talents between lacrosse and tennis last year, intends to concentrate only on the court game this season, welcome news to Zephir.

Darrell Tops

Darrell now seems to have the inside track on the number one position though both Bradley and

Lacy are expected to have some thing to say about this before the spot is definitely decided upon. Regardless of the outcome, it appears that these three have a stranglehold on the top three team berths.

For the number four and five spots it appears there will be a real dog fight between veteran Tom McDermott, team captain, and Talbott Cockey, a newcomer to the Hound's squad last year. Cockey, after winning the intramural tournament in the '49-'50 season, has developed rapidly and if he can round into shape soon enough may cop the number four spot.

Battle Foreseen

Battling for the last spot on the team are Jack Schanberger, Tom McCormick, Bill Monaghan, Ed Pula, and Si Offit. The first three named were regulars on the "B" squad of a year ago and it appears that the sixth position will be filled by one of them though a hotly contested battle is foreseen by Zephir before he makes his choice.

Line-up

Doc Carozza and Frank Kimmel Pace Greyhound Lacrosse Team

by John Fitzpatrick

Two men who have worked together on the lacrosse field since their days in high school, will help mold the destiny of the 1951 edition of Loyola College's lacrosse team. They are two highly respected seniors, Frank Kimmel and Doc Carozza.

Kimmel is the captain-elect of the stickmen this year, and will bring a background of over six years experience into the opening game with Hopkins. Frank began his stick career at Loyola High School in 1944 when he led the Dons to the Jayvee championship. Loyola did not support a team during his third and fourth years, so the speedy, agile, clever attackman turned his talents to the Knights of Columbus Club team under the able tutelage of Walter V. Hurley, along with several other members of this year's Hound 'crosse outfit.

All-American Candidate

When Frank arrived at Evergreen as a freshman, he immediately stamped himself as one of the hottest stick prospects ever to attend the Jesuit institution. Through three years of competition against the strongest teams assembled, the popular senior has been rated by coaches, players, and spectators alike, as one of the finest players in the country. Followers of Loyola's fortunes on the lacrosse field were greatly disappointed, when the 1950 All-American team was released, to find that the greyhound speedster had not been selected. Perhaps this year, his last, will find Frank gaining the true recognition he deserves—All-American.

Doc Is Four Year Veteran

Another four year veteran on the Loyola team will be playing his last season at midfield for the Green and Grey this year. He is Fred "Doc" Carozza.

In 1948 as a freshman, Doc abetted Bish Baker's midfield corps with his know-how and hustle, and for the past two years has been a regular. Carozza's four year's experience in college play should congeal very well with the younger but talented Tommy Wagner.

The personable senior received his primary schooling at St. Mary's in Govans and then matriculated at Loyola High School where he played Jayvee Football and received his first taste of rapid-fire competition while performing in the nets for the varsity hockey squad.

Likes To Ski

When Doc arrived at Evergreen, he had no actual lacrosse experience, but hard work, hustle, and fine coaching by Mentor Bish Baker has boosted him into one of the mainstays of the Hound team. Always a scrapper, his stick handling has improved considerably, and experience in combat has turned him into a top-notch defensive player.

Besides his hockey and lacrosse skill, the stocky youngster is also rated one of the outstanding skiers in this section; taking annual trips to the snow-capped mountains of western Pennsylvania to keep in shape.

Track Picture Is Brightest In Years

"We'll do as well as last year."

This is the way Coach Bill McElroy expresses his sentiments in regard to his 1951 track squad. Having lost both of his hurdlers, Walt Smyth and Tom Maskell, plus dashman Bronk and two-miler Brown through graduation, McElroy has gotten out the proverbial "crying towel" saying he has nothing in the field events and needs hurdlers.

But with thirteen performers back from last year's aggregation which compiled a 4 and 3 record, plus a host of freshmen prospects, it seems that the thinclads will be especially strong on the track this year.

Benzing Shines

In the 100 and 220 the Hounds seem to have a great deal of strength with Pat Bowes and George Feild, returning for their second campaigns, and Jim Hoeck and John Benzing, likely looking first year men. Benzing is expected to prove to be a big asset since he also high jumps and hurdles.

Expected to hold forth in the 440 are two sophomores, Bob Hockworth and Joe Paszek, the latter a converted half-miler. Both saw cross country action this fall and McElroy is relying heavily on them.

Bright Prospect

Ed Colbourn, one of the brightest track prospects at Loyola in years, is being counted on in the 880 along with Bobby Robinson, a sophomore cross country veteran.

Soph Tom Volatile will run the mile again this year, ably assisted by Mel Townsend, freshman distance hopeful.

Hurdles A Problem

In the two mile run it will be the veteran George Kimmerlein, team captain, returning for his third year of varsity competition.

But it is in the hurdles that Coach McElroy has a problem. Jim Lynch, sophomore timber-topper, and Benzing are the only two men in sight and both unknown quantities at present.

Field Picture

In the field events the picture is a rather confusing one.

It appears that the pole vault will be ably taken care of by Jack Cyphers, back from last year, and Frank Consentino, likely looking freshman performer from St. Joe.

Throwing the shot will be Ed Brennan and Harry Lentz, two untried shot putters, and Frank Macek and Bruce Healy, returning sophomores. The discus will be handled again this year by Gabe Gregorek and Healy.

Johns Hopkins Five Downs Hound Quint In M-D Tourney

The third-seeded Greyhounds were upset by Johns Hopkins in their recent quest for the Mason-Dixon Tournament title.

Topping off a twenty-eight game schedule by finishing third in the M-D league standings, the Hounds went into the tournament with high hopes of gaining the final round but came out on the short end of an 81 to 74 score.

LOYOLA OF THE EAST

Running With The Hounds

War-time Crisis May End College Sports

by Joe Steffens, Sports Editor

On April 2, the Greyhounds will inaugurate a '63 game Spring sports schedule when the Greyhound baseball team plays host to Lehigh University's nine. The other springtime sports, viz. tennis, track, lacrosse and golf will follow suit shortly afterwards.

The general outlook for the different teams during the coming season is still in doubt. The graduation axe struck a mortal blow at every team. Men like Skip Barry, All-American goalie, in lacrosse, Jack Cronin in golf, Jerry Laroque in tennis, Mike Zedalis in baseball and Tom Maskell in track, will be difficult to replace. The burden of his task will rest on the shoulders of the various new faces that will grace the line-up.

A look at the schedule will also show that there have been several changes for the coming season. Certain schools with which Loyola has enjoyed athletic relations during the past few seasons will be missing from this year's agenda. The reasons for this are varied.

Pinch Felt

Several of these schools have begun to feel the economic "pinch" which the present world situation has brought about. Other schools due to the draft and enlistments have lost much of their potential material and do not feel that they can field a representative team. This may or may not bring about a trend which next season will result in a curtailment of all spring sports. Time alone can supply us with an answer.

Credit must be given to Johns Hopkins basketball team for their victory over the recent Greyhound quintet in the recent Mason-Dixon tourney. In adding another skeleton to the Loyola athletic closet, the Blue Jays minus the services of Ed Chvatal, their star forward, showed that the will to win is one of the prime requisites for a winning ball club.

Select New Coaches

The Tennis and Golf teams will receive a new look this season when Buf Zephir and Bill Johnson assume the coaching reins. These two boys piloted the freshmen quintet to the league crown and should be able to handle these varsity assignments.

Vince Colimore, last season's tennis coach has been called into the service. Jack Cronin who served in the dual role of player coach for the golf team last year has been lost via the graduation route.

Bo Roche and Tom Rommel, two boys, who for the past few seasons have been waging a nip and tuck battle for the intramural crown are beginning to make a name for themselves in bowling circles. Both of these boys are members of the league leading National Beer team in the Baltimore Major League, which is considered one of the toughest leagues in the country.

"Bar Flies" Crowned Intramural Champs Spring Program Announced by Bamberger

Along with the announcement from Intramural Commissioner Bamberger's office that the "Bar Flies" have been crowned the new intramural basketball champions is tacked the notice of the coming spring schedule consisting of a softball league, and tennis doubles and horseshoe tournaments.

The students are reminded that these activities will be successful only if new interest and support is received from the so-called "average" athletes at the College. The deadline for signing up in any phase of the spring intramural program is April 1, all entries being refused after this date.

Tournament Details

Briefly, the softball teams will be composed of 10 men, 9 starters and one reserve, and games will have to end before 3 o'clock due to varsity activity. The Horseshoe and tennis doubles tournaments will be run on an elimination basis, with match times being decided by the contestants.

The final day of the net activities will also feature the long postponed match for the championship of the fall tennis tournament. The match sends Johnny Allen against Joe Lacy.

Star Cagers Picked

Commissioner Bamberger has released his All-League Basketball team for public consumption.

On the first team at forwards are Jim Bullington and Frank Stass, Ted Markewicz, center, and Lou Hofferbert and Ed Davis guards.
